

UNITED STATES STANDS
FOR "OPEN DOOR" POLICY
IN TURKISH RELATIONS

Declaration of That Nature Before Lausanne Conference Amazed the Delegations From Other Nations Gathered To Bring About Peace, in Near East.

NO SECRET
TREATIES IN THAT REGION

Ambassador Child Made Positive and Clear Statement That His Government Does Not Expect Agreements of That Nature To Be Carried Out Further

Lausanne, Nov. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Richard Washburn Child, chief American spokesman at the Near Eastern conference, amazed the other delegations to-day by reiterating the insistence of the United States upon the open door policy in Turkey. He read the aide-memoire delivered on Oct. 30 to Great Britain, France and Italy, and said that the American government and public supported this policy.

The conference adjourned its morning session immediately after the completion of Ambassador Child's statement, and will resume the discussion of boundaries this afternoon. Mr. Child spoke as follows:

"It is not and will not be the concern of the representatives of the United States to express at this conference views which have not for their basis the legitimate national interests of the United States or those of humanitarian consideration, which I assume are shared by every delegation present."

"We will, however, and I trust acceptably, state when the occasion arises the position of the United States. We believe that a convenient and appropriate occasion has now arisen."

"It is not unknown to those who have observed the history of conferences and negotiations that few subjects may be considered by themselves. I note, referring to the specific subject under discussion, that all the various points of negotiation must in the end be considered as a unit, and it is often true that not one detail of negotiation can be considered as isolated from the others."

"The representatives of the United States are unable, therefore, to hear concluded the discussion of any territorial settlement which in its turn may affect other settlements without drawing the attention of the conference to certain traditional principles of the foreign policy of America."

"Reference to this policy was made in an aide-memoire delivered to the ministers of foreign affairs of the three inviting powers on Oct. 30, less than one month ago."

Here Mr. Child read the clauses from the American communication relating to the opposition of the United States to secret treaties and agreements, especially to those providing for zones of special economic and commercial influence in Turkey, as follows:

"As the object in view in submitting this suggestion (that is, to send observers to Lausanne), is the elimination of any possible cause of misunderstanding, it is considered appropriate to call attention to the attitude of the United States in respect to secret treaties and agreements."

"It is not felt that arrangements previously made with respect to Turkish territory, which provide for the establishment of zones of special economic and commercial influence—such as, for example, as the tripartite agreement of 1920—are inconsistent with the people or the equality of economic opportunity. It is assumed that the allied powers will not now desire and do not now intend, to carry into effect previous arrangements of this nature."

"The United States has no desire to take any action which might embarrass the allied powers in the proper effort to secure peace. It desires nothing which need conflict with the interests of other countries, if the principle of commercial opportunity for all nations is recognized at the outset."

"The United States has no intention of seeking for itself or its nationals a position of special privilege, but it desires to protect its rights and to assure the open door."

BURTON MAY BE SENATOR.
College President Had Five Hour Conference With Gov. Goessbeck

Detroit, Nov. 25.—Speculation as to whether Governor Goessbeck would appoint to fill the senatorial seat vacated by Truman H. Both the governor and Dr. Burton declined to comment.

The university president has been one of the outstanding figures in a list of nearly 50 men and women who have been mentioned as possible appointees. He was formerly president of Smith college at Northampton, Mass.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN ENGAGED?

Screen Comedian Leaves the World in Darkness As To Truth.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri are engaged to marry, according to reports current in motion picture circles here, the Los Angeles Times stated in a story published to-day. Chaplin refused either to deny or confirm the reported engagement.

"I cannot say 'yes,'" Chaplin was quoted. "Any such announcement must of necessity come from her. Neither can I say 'no.' Think of the position that would place her in."

According to the Times Madame Negri cancelled an engagement to give a representative of that newspaper an interview when she received an intimation of the subject he wished to discuss.

The Chaplin-Negri romance, the paper continues, had its beginning when Chaplin toured Europe last year.

When Negri recently arrived here and again met Chaplin she was said to have exclaimed:

"This is what I have looked forward to ever since I started."

They are said to have been almost inseparable since she reached Los Angeles.

Later Chaplin commented: "Marriage is no crime."

The comedian is said to have moved recently from a small cottage into a house of many rooms and to be occupying it alone.

There have been many reports in the last year that he was to re-marry. He formerly was the husband of Mildred Harris, screen and vaudeville actress.

Paris, Nov. 25 (By the Associated Press).—The system of pilotless airplane control has passed a two-day test satisfactorily, according to experts who supervised the trials with a four-horsepower passenger-carrying government biplane that flew over Etampes aviation field on Wednesday and Thursday for several hours. The plane, going aloft with no one aboard, responded to control by Hertzian waves from the ground, performed all the customary evolutions and then landed safely. During the tests the machine was frequently lost from sight in haze and clouds, but it was always under control.

The system was developed by the experts De Marcey, Bouche and Percheron.

Constantinople, Nov. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Two thousand Christian orphans and two American relief workers were imperiled to-day when the steamship Belgravian, chartered by the Near East relief, collided with the trans-Atlantic line New York at the western entrance of the Bosphorus.

Allied ships, despatched hurriedly to the scene, reported that many of the children had been painfully injured, but that no lives were lost. Doctors and nurses were sent from the Near East headquarters here to attend the injured. The New York carried no passengers.

Reports received here declare the children were in panic after the impact, which tore away the bridge and foremast of the Belgravian, smashed the lifeboats and loosened seven of the vessel's plates. The steamer's wireless apparatus was also put out of commission.

YALE STUDENTS ARRESTED
On Charge of Speculating in Yale-Harvard Tickets.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.—Two additional arrests on the charge of speculating in tickets for to-day's Harvard-Yale game were made during last night the accused being freshmen in the university. Both live in this city, and both denied the charge, leaving the sifting of facts to the court.

These students, Louis S. Shanok and Phillip Epstein, said that they were riding with five casual friends about midnight when they showed game tickets. They claim the tickets were taken from them and their erstwhile friends offered them $10 for each ticket. The students claim they refused to sell, had a dispute, and finally went to the university ticket office to report their loss.

They then left to find the men who had the tickets and were arguing with them in a hotel lobby when arrested. The men who are said to have had the tickets were not arrested.

Last evening William Lewis, a Yale student of Cranston, Pa., and Hyman Krivitsky of this city were arrested charged with selling tickets. Lewis, the police say, got $25 each for two tickets, while Krivitsky is said to have got $55 for a pair.

Two alleged ticket speculators also were arrested on Thursday.

Krivitsky was found guilty in city court on one count of speculating in tickets and was fined $50 and costs, from which sentence he appealed.

The court heard the case of James DeFelic, arrested Thursday and suspended judgment. The court said that the evidence did not seem to exactly bar out the charge of intent to speculate, as DeFelic was trying to accommodate some one with tickets, having charged only a small advance over their face value.

CHECKS DRAWN ON WOODHOUSE

By Mrs. Lillian Hendrick McClellan of Washington

TEST ED CLERK IN M CHANTS' BANK

Jury Ten To-day To Inspect
remises Figuring in 1,000,000 Suit

Burlington, Nov. 25.—Trial of the Woodhouse million dollar alienation suit was brought to an abrupt halt this morning when it was decided to have the jury inspect the Woodhouse estate in this city. This was done with the view to giving them the "background" believed necessary by the defense in evidence which it expected to introduce later on.

Evidence in the case this morning was limited to the testimony of two witnesses, the first being a hotel clerk in the Ten Eyck, Albany, N. Y., introduced by the defense in an attempt to establish the alibi of L. E. Woodhouse as to where he was on the day of the alleged interview he had with his chauffeur regarding the demand of Douglas' sons to Dorrit Woodhouse. The other witness was Clark R. Brigham, an employee of the Merchants' National bank of this city, who told of numerous checks drawn on Douglas Woodhouse by Mrs. Lillian Hendrick McClellan of Washington.

"Either Marry or Settle."

"Douglas Woodhouse has nailed that girl to the cross. We are going to New York. He will either marry or settle." Such were the words of Mrs. Van Deusen, aunt of Dorrit Van Deusen Stevens Woodhouse, plaintiff in the suit against her husband's parents, according to the testimony of Arthur W. Hill, assistant cashier of the Merchants' National bank of this city, who took the witness stand for the defense yesterday afternoon.

This conversation with Mrs. Van Deusen took place in the directors' room of the Merchants' National bank about the 11th of September, 1918, and was in the presence of Dorrit Stevens, who came to the bank with her aunt.

Mr. Hill was told, he said, that Dorrit wished to see him in the directors' room and he went there. There was a woman with her who he learned was her aunt, Mrs. Van Deusen. This woman asked him if he had any information as to whether Douglas Woodhouse intended to marry her niece. Mr. Hill replied that he had no such information. The above statement was then made, according to the witness.

Dr. Sparhawk of Burlington, who paid seven visits to Douglas Woodhouse when the latter was ill at a Long Branch, N. J., hospital, testified that he found the patient "moderately ill." The witness said he had been present at a meeting between Mrs. Dorrit Woodhouse and her father-in-law at the Long Branch railroad station.

"I introduced Mr. Woodhouse to her and he shook hands with her," the witness said. "Then we walked to the hospital together. I never saw Mr. Woodhouse shake his daughter-in-law any discourtesy."

F. D. Abernethy of this city, proprietor of the store of the same name, testified that he never had any talk with Lorenzo Woodhouse about extending credit to Mrs. Douglas Woodhouse, and to his knowledge his store has never refused her credit. Dorrit Stevens Woodhouse's bill at the Abernethy store from June 1 to Nov. 1, 1920, amounted to about $900, the witness thought.
